

GOD IS CALLING

by Angela Giglia, 2016

God, is it You who whispers to me in the darkness of my mind?

Is it You calling to me when I think I'm all alone
then hear a voice?

I know You are our Creator, whom we can never give enough praise to.

You give all people various kinds of guidance.

You call us to belong to Christ in every element of our lives.

It truly is You who is with us on our path through life and stays by our side when we take a wrong turn?

For we are Your children, and You know we are not perfect.

As we grow, we may stray from the path which You try ever so hard to guide us down,

For each of us have our own intentions.

We want to grow up before our time.

We ask for Your forgiveness.

We are young,

We are foolish,

We have sinned.

Let us turn away from our sins and start anew.

Help us to use our God given judgement when making decisions.

Give us strength to carry on as we try to better ourselves day by day.

Amen
